Tuesday 13 November 2018 –

NOTHING IS NATURAL; NOTHING IS STATIC

We call a landscape natural when it is anything but; as photographers we are often complicit, ignoring the new and hiding the traces of human activity. A selection of urban and landscape images, and a discussion around these theme is the subject of Rob Shuttleworth's presentation this evening.

Tuesday 20 November 2018 –

“THE 10 HABITS OF SUCCESSFUL STREET PHOTOGRAPHERS”

As a genre, street photography has really taken off in the UK, no doubt due in part to the cheapness and popularity of digital cameras and mobile phone cameras. Whilst it's a fairly straightforward art form, there are some techniques which are well worth learning. Brian Lloyd Duckett aims to teach these techniques, along with some invaluable tips and 'tricks of the trade'.

Tuesday 27 November 2018 – 3rd CLUBMAN COMPETITION

Landscape Competition. Judge: * Graham Walton, DPAGB.

Tuesday 4 December 2018 – SOLACE - A PLACE I FIND PEACE

After working in newspapers since 1991 Paul Sanders left the prestigious role of Picture Editor of The Times to pursue his passion for landscape photography. This complete change of direction was not without its issues. Paul will explain the reason he shoots like he does, how he developed his style, his reason for switching from DSLR to mirrorless.

Tuesday 11 December 2018 – ABSTRACT PHOTOGRAPHY

Martin Addison, FRPS, has been an enthusiastic photographer for about fifty years and enjoys many different types of photography, landscape, street, close-up and most of all, creating images which are not representational, but intriguing (and sometimes confuse) viewers!

Tuesday 15 January 2019 – AN IMAGE SEEN

As a creative tool the camera has allowed Sarah Howard to express her love of the landscape. Photography has changed her life in the sense that it's opened her eyes and made her really 'see' what is around her. Her vision has become more fine-tuned and she now looks at her surroundings completely differently.

Tuesday 22 January 2019 – GOING FOR DISTINCTIONS

This presentation by David Keith Jones, FRPS, EFIAP, DPAGB offers up-to-date advice on how to apply for the following distinctions: CPAGB, DPAGB, AFIAP, EFIAP, LRPS and ARPS. Current requirements will be explained along with examples including two successful DPAGB submissions; award winning images from FIAP exhibitions for AFIAP and EFIAP; a panel of recent successes for LRPS and two for ARPS.
